Counsel of Record

Re: State of Texas v. State of New Mexico and State of Colorado
Supreme Court Docket No. 141 Original

Dear Counsel:

By order of April 2, 2018, the Supreme Court has appointed United States Circuit Judge Michael J. Melloy as Special Master in this matter. Judge Melloy has asked my office to assist him with case processing, service and notice issues in the case.

Web Docket Address

In order to facilitate these tasks, we have created a website similar to the one Special Master Grimsal maintained on his law firm site. We have added all of the entries from his docket, so this is a complete, master docket of the Special Master filings. You may access the docket at the following link. You can also access the docket from our home page, shown above.

Service

Special Master Grimsal has provided us with a current service list in the case, and a copy of that list is attached. Please let me know if the list needs any updates or changes. You should continue to serve each other by email as set out in Case Management Order No. 2, entered by Special Master Grimsal on February 19, 2015.

Filing a Document with the Clerk and Judge Melloy

In order to file a document, please send a .pdf copy of the document to the following email address: TXvNM141@ca8.uscourts.gov

My office will monitor the email account. Upon receipt of a document, we will add the document to the docket sheet. When Judge Melloy sends us orders or other materials to docket and issue to counsel, we will email them to you, using the current service list.

Counsel of Record
Texas v. New Mexico, et al.
April 6 , 2018

In accordance with Judge Melloy's directions of April 3, 2018, courtesy copies of all pleadings should be emailed directly to him. Please refer to Judge Melloy's letter for additional information.

I look forward to working with you. If you have questions, concerns or suggestions, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,
Michael E. Gans
Clerk of Court
