Before MURPHY, JOHN R. GIBSON, and FAGG, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM.

Raising a shotgun array of contentions, Farmland Industries, Inc. (Farmland) appeals from the adverse decisions of the jury and the district judge in Randy and Colleen Dodds's diversity action against Farmland for its negligent advice about dairy feed which caused damage to the Doddses' commercial dairy herd. We review the issues raised by Farmland under well-established standards. Because this is a diversity case, we review de novo questions of state law. Having considered the record and the parties' briefs in the context of Farmland's contentions, we reject Farmland's allegations of reversible error. We are satisfied the district court correctly applied the controlling legal principles and the record supports the jury's verdict. We also conclude a comprehensive opinion in this diversity case would lack precedential value. We thus affirm the judgment of the district court without further discussion. See 8th Cir. R. 47B.
