PER CURIAM.

In this action brought under the Federal Tort Claims Act, the Freedom of Information Act, and the Administrative Procedures Act, Oscar Stilley appeals after the district court<sup>1</sup> denied some of his discovery requests, dismissed some of his claims, and adversely granted summary judgment on his remaining claims. Upon careful review, we conclude that the district court did not abuse its discretion in its discovery rulings, see Toben v. Bridgestone Retail Operations, LLC, 751 F.3d 888, 895 (8th Cir. 2014) (noting that district courts have wide discretion in handling discovery matters), and did not err in disposing of Stilley's claims, see Kelly v. City of Omaha, 813 F.3d 1070, 1075 (8th Cir. 2016) (explaining that a district court's dismissal under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6) is reviewed de novo); see also Odom v. Kaizer, 864 F.3d 920, 921 (8th Cir. 2017) (explaining that a district court's grant of summary judgment is reviewed de novo, and that summary judgment is proper when there is no genuine issue of material fact and the prevailing party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law). Accordingly, we affirm. See 8th Cir. R. 47B.
