¹The Honorable Stephanie M. Rose, United States District Judge for the Southern District of Iowa.

under Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738 (1967), challenging the substantive reasonableness of the sentence.

After careful review, we conclude that the district court did not impose an unreasonable sentence. The court properly considered the factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a), and there is no indication that the court considered an improper or irrelevant factor or committed a clear error in weighing relevant factors. See United States v. Salazar-Aleman, 741 F.3d 878, 881 (8th Cir. 2013) (discussing appellate review of sentencing decisions). Further, the court imposed a sentence below the guidelines imprisonment range. See United States v. Lazarski, 560 F.3d 731, 733 (8th Cir. 2009) (stating that where the district court varied downward from the guidelines range, it was "nearly inconceivable" that the court abused its discretion in not varying downward further).

Having independently reviewed the record under Penson v. Ohio, 488 U.S. 75 (1988), we find no non-frivolous issues for appeal. Accordingly, we grant counsel's motion and affirm.
