PER CURIAM.

Arkansas inmate Rickie Green appeals the district court's<sup>1</sup> adverse judgment in his 42 U.S.C. § 1983 action. Having jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1291, this court affirms.

Upon de novo review, this court agrees that Green's official-capacity claims were barred by sovereign immunity; and that he failed to state a claim against defendant Westmoreland. See Corwin v. City of Independence, 829 F.3d 695, 698-99 (8th Cir. 2016) (standard of review); Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007) (complaint must plead enough facts to state claim for relief that is plausible on its face); Will v. Mich. Dep't of State Police, 491 U.S. 58, 66 (1989) (Eleventh Amendment bars damages action against state for alleged deprivation of civil liberties unless state has waived immunity). This court also finds that the district court properly granted summary judgment to defendants Burns, Clark, Davis, Miller, Moore, and Ridgle, because Green did not show they were deliberately indifferent to his serious medical needs. See Saylor v. Nebraska, 812 F.3d 637, 644 (8th Cir. 2016) (deliberate indifference requires both objective prong of objectively serious medical condition and subjective prong of mental state akin to criminal recklessness). Because Green does not address the grant of summary judgment on his failure to exhaust the claims against the remaining defendants, he has waived those claims. See Doe v. Fort Zumwalt R-II Sch. Dist., 920 F.3d 1184, 1191 (8th Cir. 2019) (where appellant did not challenge district court's rationale or entry of summary judgment, claim was waived).

The judgment is affirmed. See 8th Cir. R. 47B.
