release. His counsel has moved to withdraw and has filed a brief arguing that the sentence is substantively unreasonable.

After careful review of the record, we conclude that the district court did not abuse its discretion in imposing the revocation sentence. *See United States v. There is no indication that the district court overlooked a relevant 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a) factor, gave significant weight to an improper or irrelevant factor, or committed a clear error of judgment in weighing the relevant factors. See United States v. Larison, 432 F.3d 921, 923-24 (8th Cir. 2006); see also United States v. Perkins, 526 F.3d 1107, 1110 (8th Cir. 2008) (holding that a revocation sentence within the Guidelines range is accorded a presumption of reasonableness on appeal).

Accordingly, we grant counsel's motion to withdraw, and affirm.
