PER CURIAM.

Jeremy Dobson appeals after he pled guilty, pursuant to a Fed. R. Crim. P. 11(c)(1)(C) plea agreement containing an appeal waiver, to kidnapping, carjacking, and firearm offenses, and the district court<sup>1</sup> imposed a sentence within the agreed-upon range. His counsel has moved for leave to withdraw and filed a brief under Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738 (1967), relaying Dobson's contention that proceedings related to his mental competency were used for purposes of delay and giving the government an advantage in building its case against him.

Upon careful review, we conclude the appeal waiver is valid, enforceable, and applicable to this appeal. See United States v. Scott, 627 F.3d 702, 704 (8th Cir. 2010) (reviewing validity and applicability of appeal waiver de novo); United States v. Andis, 333 F.3d 886, 889-92 (8th Cir. 2003) (en banc) (enforcing appeal waiver if appeal falls within scope of waiver, defendant knowingly and voluntarily entered into plea agreement and waiver, and it would not result in miscarriage of justice). We have also independently reviewed the record under Penon v. Ohio, 488 U.S. 75 (1988), and have found no non-frivolous issues for appeal falling outside the scope of the appeal waiver. Accordingly, we dismiss the appeal based on the appeal waiver, and grant counsel leave to withdraw. We also grant counsel's motion to supplement the record.
