PER CURIAM.

Iowa prisoner Jimmy Carr appeals following the district court's<sup>1</sup> adverse grant of summary judgment in this civil rights action. Upon careful review, we find Carr waived his claims against Scott Hauptmann by failing to make any meaningful argument in his opening brief challenging the grant of summary judgment for Hauptmann. See Jenkins v. Winter, 540 F.3d 742, 751 (8th Cir. 2008) (where there is no meaningful argument on claim in opening brief, it is deemed waived). For the reasons stated by the district court, we also conclude the grant of summary judgment for Michael Roberts was proper. See Fair v. Norris, 480 F.3d 865, 869 (8th Cir. 2007) (standard of review). Accordingly, we affirm. See 8th Cir. R. 47B.
