PER CURIAM.

Toni Yeager appeals the sentence the district court<sup>1</sup> imposed after she pleaded guilty to a drug offense pursuant to a written plea agreement. Her counsel has moved to withdraw and has filed a brief under Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738 (1967), challenging the substantive reasonableness of the sentence.

After careful review, we conclude the district court did not abuse its discretion in sentencing Yeager. See United States v. Feemster, 572 F.3d 455, 461-62 (8th Cir. 2009) (en banc) (standard of review); see also United States v. Timberlake, 679 F.3d 1008, 1012 (8th Cir. 2012) (district court is presumed to have considered mitigating factors counsel discussed at sentencing and has substantial latitude to weigh sentencing factors); United States v. Callaway, 762 F.3d 754, 760 (8th Cir. 2014) (on appeal, within-Guidelines range sentence may be presumed reasonable). Further, having independently reviewed the record under Penon v. Ohio, 488 U.S. 75 (1988), we find no non-frivolous issues for appeal. Accordingly, we grant counsel's motion to withdraw and affirm.
