Before LOKEN, KELLY, and JUSTIN D. SMITH, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM.

Daisha Bradshaw appeals after she pleaded guilty to a firearm offense and was sentenced to 78 months in prison and three years of supervised release. Bradshaw's counsel has moved to withdraw and has filed a brief under Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738 (1967), challenging the application of a sentencing enhancement and the substantive reasonableness of the sentence.

We conclude that the district court¹ did not clearly err by applying an increase under U.S.S.G. § 2K2.1(b)(7)(B) for possessing the firearm in connection with the felony offense of possession of methamphetamine, considering the record showed that the drugs, drug paraphernalia, ammunition, and loaded firearm were found together in Bradshaw’s satchel, while she was out in public in a car. See United States v. Swanson, 610 F.3d 1005, 1007 (8th Cir. 2010) (standard of review); see also United States v. Holm, 745 F.3d 938, 940-43 (8th Cir. 2014). Furthermore, on abuse-of-discretion review, we conclude Bradshaw’s sentence was not substantively unreasonable, as the district court properly considered the factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a), and there is no indication that it overlooked a relevant factor, gave significant weight to an improper factor, or committed a clear error of judgment in weighing relevant factors. See United States v. Feemster, 572 F.3d 455, 461-62, 464 (8th Cir. 2009) (en banc); see also United States v. Haskins, 101 F.4th 997, 1000 (8th Cir. 2024). Finally, we have independently reviewed the record under Penson v. Ohio, 488 U.S. 75 (1988), and have found no non-frivolous issues for appeal.

Accordingly, we affirm the judgment and grant counsel’s motion to withdraw.

¹The Honorable Leonard T. Strand, United States District Judge for the Northern District of Iowa.
