PER CURIAM.

Former pretrial detainee Nersius Artisani appeals following the district court's<sup>1</sup> adverse grant of summary judgment in his pro se 42 U.S.C. § 1983 action alleging deliberate indifference based on the non-surgical treatment of his hand fractures. Upon de novo review, we find no basis for reversal. See Schmit v. Trimac Transp., Inc., 172 F.4th 612, 618 (8th Cir. 2026) (standard of review); Dulany v. Carnahan, 132 F.3d 1234, 1240-41 (8th Cir. 1997) (plaintiff could not establish deliberate indifference where he provided no evidence showing that treatment was so inappropriate as to evidence intentional maltreatment; inmate is not entitled to any particular treatment and cannot create question of fact merely by stating that he felt treatment was inadequate). We further grant Artisani's motion to amend the notice of appeal, and find no abuse of discretion in the denial of his post-judgment motion. See Miller v. Baker Implement Co., 439 F.3d 407, 414 (8th Cir. 2006) (standard of review). Finally, we deny Artisani's pending motion for sanctions, and deny as moot his motion for "order" and to appoint new counsel on remand.

The judgment is affirmed. See 8th Cir. R. 47B.
